

SECTION 4
EIGHT PAGES

The Sun.

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, MAY 12, 1918.

PICTORIAL
MAGAZINE

Above—President Wilson's sheep on the lawn in front of the White House. The animals are blooded Shropshires and were purchased recently by the President to set a good example to owners of large estates.

Copyright, Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson.

At right—Italians and Americans gathered in the ruins of the ancient Coliseum at Rome to celebrate the anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the war. It was a historic occasion.

Copyright, Central News.

Below—Officers leading a regiment of American infantry to the front line for duty in the trenches on the sector held by our men. Notice what a husky lot they are. Copyright, 1918, Committee on Public Information.

The Liberty Ball crossing Twenty-third street on the last lap of its journey from Buffalo to New York for the Liberty Loan. Photo by Paul Thompson.

